AGES:
Grade 3 – Grade 8
(School Year 2017 – 2018)

Ms. Schaffner has an MFA from the University of Oklahoma (Modern Dance), and a BFA in Dance Education form Kent State University. She has worked with many theater programs from local youth productions to professional theater organizations like the Kensington Arts Theater (Washington D.C.). She divides her time between dancing, acting professionally, and as an educator in varied programs throughout the Baltimore area. She is a current adjunct professor at the Community College of Baltimore County, and works with other organizations teaching students from age 5 to a senior group beginning at 55+. Her work in directing, staging, choreographing and performing extend to, concert dance productions, musical theater, Opera, educational programming and more.

"Mr. Z" is a Loyola Blakefield High School, and Towson University graduate, who studied under world-renowned pianist, adjudicator, and teacher, Reynaldo Reyes. Before attending college, Mr. Zurowski had the opportunity to work with elite Peabody Conservatory Graduates.

Currently, Mr. Z is a music educator in the Archdiocese of Baltimore Schools, where he directs student choirs, who rigorously participates in community events, musically directs, and produces musicals, and Coordinates the Archdiocese of Baltimore Choir Festival. He is pursuing his Graduate Degree at the Towson University in Music Education, with concentration in Vocal, and Instrumental, Conducting, and Curriculum Design and Development.

Mr. Zurowski has been educating students since 2008. The past couple of years at the Saint Michael – Saint Clement School, have been the best in his professional career. He has enjoyed the outstanding support to the Performing Art from students, teachers, administration, and most importantly, the parents, who have developed the Performing Arts Department programs. Together, we provide meaningful opportunities for the children to rigorously thrive in today's world.
